

WTF 2.12 - Stargates (Part 3): Mechanics, Guardians & the Cosmic Firewall

"Not all who seek the gates may pass - some must become them."

Stargates require resonance, not coordinates. They open through emotional neutrality, energetic coherence, and identity sacrifice. When aligned, they collapse linearity and expose the truth within.

Guardians appear - not to block you, but to reflect you. False gates dazzle, but loop. The true gate burns. You cross it, or you become part of the trap.

Truth Filter:

- Gates open only through resonance.
- Guardians test your signal, not your faith.
- The firewall strips everything false.
- The final gate leads to full remembrance - and sovereignty.

The real gate doesn't lead you out. It leads you back to what you were before they caged the sky.
