

WTF 2.13 - What Are Comets and Why Do We See Them (Under a Dome)?

"Rocks from space"? Or messages etched in light on the ceiling of our cage?

Why the Mainstream Story Fails:

We're told comets are icy space debris lit by the sun. But in a closed, domed system with no deep space or orbiting objects, this story collapses. Comets should not exist in a sealed realm.

So what are they really?

Possibility 1: Plasma Events

- Ionised electromagnetic trails across the dome's interior
- Triggered by field disturbances or artificial sky tech
- Not traveling - but drawn across a charged medium

Possibility 2: Sky Rituals and Programmed Symbols

- Comets appear during wars, resets, awakenings
- Historical empires fall under their glow
- Their return is clocked like ritual - not orbit

Possibility 3: Dome Feedback or Memory Triggers

- Trails appear from within the system as energy pulses
- Comets influence dreams, emotion, memory
- Not rocks - but resonance catalysts

Conclusion:

Comets may be energetic scripts, field warnings, or time-coded events. They don't fly in from space.

They're part of the ceiling's deeper mechanics - and their meaning is felt, not taught.

Poem: Whispers on the Dome

They said it was ice,
drifting through vacuum,
a relic of chaos
set alight by the Sun.

But I saw it different.

A ribbon of memory
etched in the shell of our sky,
a silver scratch
across the ceiling of this dream.

No arc without purpose.

No glow without signal.

It did not fall.

It spoke.

Not in words -

in the shiver behind the spine,
in the silence before the wind shifts,

in the echo of something you forgot you were part of.

It is not from out there.

There is no out there.

It is from within - a flare of the system

or the soul.

A reminder that even in the cage,

light can write stories

you don't need permission to read.

So look up.

Not to wish.

To remember.
